WELLGUARD FINISHING SYSTEM®

Premier SERIES. ESTATE COLLECTION.

Wellborn takes great pride and care with the finishing of our kitchen furniture. Years of research partnered with development through Valspar have resulted in The WellGuard Finishing System®— a 24-step superb finishing process. The WellGuard Finishing System has been tested against 17 common household chemicals and food products and passed beautifully. Those agents include: gasoline, water, coffee, olive oil, ammonia, fly spray, detergent, soaps, alcohol, mustard, crayons, shoe polish, tea, vinegar, dye, citric acid and beet juice. Shown below are some of the key quality aspects of our finishing process which all of our stained finishes receive.

WellGuard FINISHING SYSTEM®

1. Hand select the finest wood
2. Manual hand sanding line for a smooth consistent finish and cross grain elimination
3. Dust particles removed and quality inspected
4. A sap stain is applied to tone and balance the color and grain
5. Grain enhancing dye stain adds color depth
6. Hand rubbed wiping stain applied for complete color coverage
7. The surfaces are air dried and inspected for color
8. The first coat of durable catalyzed sealer is applied
9. Oven-cured providing a tough, durable, baked-on finish
10. Hand sanded with fine grit sandpaper and quality inspected
11. The second coat of catalyzed melamine enriched sealer is applied
12. Our products are oven-cured a second time
13. Hand sanded again to provide a smooth surface for topcoat
14. Some finishes receive a shading technique
15. The surface is again hand sanded
16. Hand wiped with tack cloth in preparation for final topcoat
17. Inspected for consistency of shading or glazing
18. A third coat of sealer is applied
19. The surfaces are hand sanded again
20. Resin blend melamine enriched topcoat is applied
21. Conversion varnish topcoat is oven cured, creating a tough, baked-on finish
22. Personally quality inspected using a sheen meter
23. UV drying station completes the curing process
24. Finished wood components are stored in individual staging racks to prevent scratches

FINISH TECHNIQUES

Wellborn has several Finish Techniques that create different levels of worn appearances. Each piece on the cabinet will vary in the amount of level and appearance in each effect creating a randomness of appearance. Techniques will be applied to doors and drawer fronts but will not be applied to the cabinet face frame and accessories. Some specialty accessories like Open Display Cabinets and Bookcases will receive these effects. Many small mouldings will not receive the Finish Techniques. The Finish Techniques will vary within individual doors; therefore, no two doors will be alike throughout the entire kitchen. These techniques are shown on pages 46–47.

- Medium Dents
  A physical technique of randomly striking the wood surface with a tool to create indentations that mimic the look of aged wood. Medium Dents are larger than Worm Holes and will collect a glaze in varying amounts when applied.
- Carved Edges
  A technique where small areas of the wood surface are chiseled out on door edges and corners meaning to create a high level worn look.
- Burnishing
  A technique where the profile edges have been darkened to create an antiqued effect.
- Rub Through
  A sanding technique used to randomly expose an undercoat of natural wood tone on corners and edges.
- Rasping
  A physical technique using a metal scrapper called a rasp which runs over the edges and raised details to mimic severe wear.
- Small Dents
  A physical technique of randomly striking the wood surface with a tool to create indentations that mimic the look of aged wood. Small Dents are larger than Worm Holes and will collect a glaze in varying amounts when applied.
- Dry Brushing
  A technique applying a very dark stain to highlight the distressing on the surface of the wood.
- Worm Holes
  A physical technique of randomly placing small round holes that mimics the look of insect penetration which occurs naturally in trees and harvested wood. Worm Holes are smaller than Small Dents and will collect a glaze in varying amounts when applied.
- Spatter
  A paint technique where paint is flicked across the surface, producing inconsistent spatter on the stained or painted surface.

THE BEAUTY OF NATURAL HARDWOOD

Hardwoods offer a tremendous selection of grain patterns, color variations and textures. Choices range from the bold statements of authentic American red Oak, Hickory and Character Maple to the more subdued personalities of Cherry and Maple. These variations define and enhance wood's natural beauty. Because no two trees are exactly alike, the cabinets made for your kitchen or bath will have subtle variations from the showroom displays or samples on which you base your selection. The quality solid hardwoods used in Wellborn cabinetry are some of the most beautiful and enduring natural materials available. All hardwoods, being a product of nature, vary from one piece to the next, even from the same tree, each having its own characteristics. Therefore, each piece of wood, each cabinet and each kitchen is unique. Cabinetry that emphasizes the rich grain pattern and unique texture of solid hardwood has a greater perceived value. No human being was ever intended to control the natural development of hardwoods. This is the unique beauty of natural hardwood and this is the distinct beauty of solid wood cabinets. Wellborn Cabinet, Inc. believes there is nothing more beautiful than solid wood. That is why Wellborn is one of the few remaining manufacturers who continues to use solid wood in our Estate and Premier Series raised panel doors and drawer fronts.

CHERRY

Cherry is synonymous with luxurious cabinets. The rich red highlights give the wood a distinctive appearance. Cherry will occasionally have tiny pin knots, pitch pockets and very small, dark streaks of gum. These features have fascinated woodworkers for centuries.

CHARACTER CHERRY

Character Cherry's unique characteristics are emphasized by randomly occurring various sized knots, pin knots, pitch pockets and small streaks of gum. Cluster knots and open knots could also be a feature. The amount of character will vary from each door making each kitchen unique.

MAPLE

Maple is widely used in the cabinetry industry. This wood species features a straight grain with several distinctive characteristics. These include unique figures such as bird's-eye, fiddle back, mineral streaks and curly grain patterns. Finely textured with a natural luster, this creamy-white to light reddish-brown wood is often used for cabinets and floors.

CHARACTER MAPLE

Character Maple's unique characteristics are brought out by randomly occurring, variously sized knots, pin holes, worm holes and tracks, gum and bark pockets, sugar tracks, heartwood and mineral streaks. Cluster knots and open knots could also be a feature. The amount of character marks will vary from each piece of wood making each kitchen unique.

OAK

Authentic American red Oaks are open-pored and have grain patterns. Wellborn's manufacturing technology presents Oak with straighter grains than most cabinet lines, and our process minimizes the wide grains and reduces the widths of cathedrals in Oak.

HICKORY

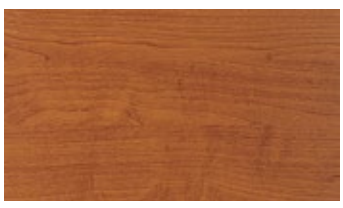
Hickory has distinctive contrasting colors from light to dark and strong grain characteristics. The texture of Hickory is open grained. Hickories by nature are heavy, hard, strong and stiff-producing durable cabinetry. Hickory is for homeowners desiring dramatic wood characteristics.

THERMOFOIL

Thermofoil doors and drawer fronts are covered in a strong, scratch-resistant thermofoil that is thermally glued and vacuum-sealed. To create the popular raised panel appearance we use precision, diamond-head routers to carve the double-step perimeter edge and center panel detailing from a solid slab of Medium Density Fiberboard.

MEDIUM DENISTY FIBERBOARD

Using high pressure and temperatures, MDF is formed by combining wood fibers with a wax resin binder to form panels. It is made of wood veneer. It is much more dense than normal particle board. This is a durable and tough wood product, commonly used in the construction industry.



LAMINATE

Laminate is a decorative panel with resin-saturated printed paper thermally fused to a particleboard or MDF core. The thermally fused melamine process bonds the paper and board using heat and pressure. The paper gives the appearance of wood grain or painted finishes.

SPECIAL EFFECTS

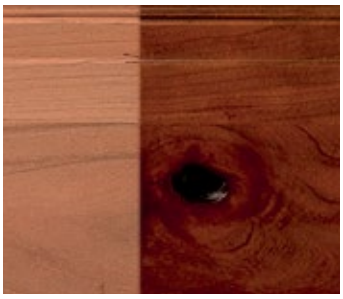
CHARACTER CHERRY
CHARACTER MAPLE

Character features include knots that may be located in the center panel of the door and drawer panels. Open knots located in the center panel of the door and drawer panels are acceptable, though they must be structurally sound. Sound or closed knots are acceptable up to 2½" in diameter. Knots with visible openings entirely through the wood must not exceed ½". Cluster knots could also be a feature. Some knot locations may affect hardware placement.

Other parts of the cabinet like door stiles, rails and mouldings will not include knots, but may show other natural features. However, it will be uncommon to find all markings on any single piece. Door parts are chosen at random with the appearance of each individual door varying widely. Cabinet face frames, end panels, and open cabinets (such as bookcases and other components) will not include knots; however they may appear with grain characteristics of Character and/or clear Cherry and Maple.

Character Cherry has randomly occurring, variously sized knots, worm holes and tracks, gum pockets and streaks, mineral stains and streaks, burls, blemishes, sapwood and non-structural splits. Character Cherry wood color can range from pink to dark brown with a flowing grain pattern and open and closed knots. Cluster knots could also be a feature.

Character Maple characteristics are brought out by randomly occurring, variously sized knots, pin holes, worm holes and tracks, gum and bark pockets, sugar tracks, heartwood and mineral streaks. Character Maple will include wood color differences caused by variations found in minerals in the soil.



DARK FINISHES ON CHARACTER

- Dark stains and paints will hide the majority of character features. Large open knots and some splits, if present, may still be partially visible.
- Character features are more noticeable on Natural or lighter toned finishes.

TICKING

- Glaze Technique will hang up in all open grain areas in wood, especially oak

GLAZING ON BEAD BOARD

- Glazing on Bead Board will result in darker color in grooves

THERMOFOIL

- High quality foil that has a lightly textured effect
- Applied with intense heat process and secured with durable glue and pressure to the MDF substrate
- Easy to clean smooth surface
- Face frame of the cabinets is unfinished maple painted to match the door color

OUR COMMITMENT TO THE ENVIRONMENT

THE WELLBORN QUALITY

Since 1961, Wellborn Cabinet, Inc. has been manufacturing quality kitchen and bath cabinetry in Ashland, Alabama. It all began in a small cabinet shop to build cabinets for the local markets. Since that time, Wellborn has become a state of the art manufacturing facility of over 1.8 million square feet that combines some of the most advanced technology systems in the industry with over 50 years of acquired knowledge and experience in high quality cabinetry craftsmanship.

GREEN CHOICE IS ABOUT TAKING ACTION

Environmental stewardship has been part of Wellborn's culture since its beginning. This has been proven through decades of actions, investments, and practices. The Green Choice program ensures that you are purchasing a brand of cabinets from a company that takes conscious steps to protect and minimize the overall impact on our environment. At Wellborn, we have recycling programs that utilize wood waste to generate power and steam and continue to lower VOC emissions through technology. We partner with our suppliers to improve their environmental programs. We also partake in certification programs, which guarantees that our manufacturing process reduces the effects on the environment.

Wellborn endorses the industry-wide efforts and commitment of the KCMA organization and its Environmental Stewardship Program (ESP). The ESP certification program establishes a standard, measurable benchmark for environmental performance. This certification validates our performance to adhere to high standards for air quality, product resource management, process resource management, environmental stewardship, and community relations. You will find the KCMA Environmental Stewardship Program seal proudly displayed on our cabinetry.

With the Eco-Certified Composite (ECC) Sustainability Standard, you can be assured that Wellborn's composite wood panels are among the greenest products available for architectural, construction and consumer products. The ECC certification delivers verifiable evidence of greenness, demonstrating compliance in three of five categories including carbon footprint, local and renewable resources, recycled/recovered content, sustainability, and wood sourcing through a recognized standard such as FSC or SFI.

Wellborn continuously searches for new technologies and processes to improve our sustainability practices. We will continue to partner with our suppliers and industry associations in a joint effort to embrace the changes necessary and ensure that we all have a healthier environment. Wellborn's demonstrated commitment to environmental stewardship offers you the assurance that the cabinets you buy are the Green Choice for generations of family and the environment.
